

ZooBrew

Deep from amongst the skulls and bones of Trinity's zoology building comes a beer so rare it has no IUNC rating. A beer so significant ($p=1 \times 10^{-10}$) its only residuals are its rich aftertaste. A beer with ingredients honed by millions of years of evolution and selected over thousands of years of human drunkenness. A beer so good not even extinction can keep it down. ZooBrew is the beer with a little bit of animal and a lot of bite!
